

ASTS Advanced Leadership Development Program
Cultivating Innovative and Effective Leadership within a Complex Medical Environment

Overview:

The ASTS Advanced Leadership Development Program (ALDP) is an exciting enhancement to the educational program offered through the popular ASTS Leadership Development Program. The ALDP tackles the toughest leadership challenges facing leaders in transplantation. As the medical environment becomes more complex, successful transplant programs require innovative leadership strategies to remain competitive and profitable. This ambitious, year-long program is designed for senior clinical and administrative transplant leaders. We have limited the program to 40 participants to ensure a personalized and highly rewarding experience.

Program Design:

Part I: 2 ½ day intensive, in-residence program at the Kellogg School of Management, Evanston, IL, April 28-30, 2013

Part II: Four-part interactive webinar series
