The American Society of Transplant Surgeons invites our corporate partners to be part of the ASTS Fall 2023 Surgical Fellows Symposium through promotional opportunities that can be tailored to spotlight your commitment to the field of transplant surgery. The ASTS Surgical Fellows Symposium is a unique meeting available to all ASTS second-year fellows at Transplant Accreditation & Certification Council (TACC) accredited training programs in the U.S. and Canada. The meeting offers fellows unparalleled learning opportunities through systematic discussions, lively debates, self-assessment activities, and both didactic and interactive educational content. The symposium also includes networking events that give fellows the opportunity for personal interaction with nationally recognized faculty.
